St Ambrose University Honors Program and Scott Community College Honors Program, one of Eastern Iowa Community Colleges

Mutual Academic Interests:

St. Ambrose University and Scott Community College, one of Eastern Iowa Community Colleges share mutual interests regarding the availability and quality of higher education for all students to ensure a viable and strong future in the higher education environment for all who choose to participate. SCC provides coursework at the freshman and sophomore levels for students; this coursework leads to various certificates and associate degrees. SAU offers courses of study leading to baccalaureate, master and doctoral degrees. The purpose of the Honors Articulation agreement is to provide guidelines and areas of responsibility that will ensure that students completing courses in the Honors Program at both SCC and SAU will be able to transfer those courses without loss of credit or recognition for requirements within the Honors Program.

Scott Community College Honors Program:
